3. Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

We all know the importance of water. It is the secret of life for all living things. No creature could live without it. Some doctors think that you should drink a glass of water each morning. You should drink this water first thing, before doing anything else. The temperature of the water should be similar to the temperatures of your body neither too hot nor too cold. Why should you drink this water? Water helps your body in many ways. It helps clean out your kidneys. It prepares your stomach for digestion. Water can also help your intestines work better. After drinking water, the intestines can more easily take out nutrients from our food. Water also helps us go to the bathroom more easily.

Scientists suggest that people take in 1,600 milliliters of water each day. But don't drink all of that water in one sitting. If you do, your kidneys will have to work much harder to eliminate it. It's better to drink some in the morning and some in the afternoon.

Some people think it's better to drink between meals and not during meals. They think water dilutes the juices produced in our stomachs. This can interfere with normal digestion. Are you drinking enough water every day? Check the color of your urine. If it is light yellow, you are probably drinking enough. If your urine is very dark yellow, you probably need to drink more water. A little more water each day could make you much healthier!

Choose the correct answer from a , b , c or d:

 - a. So you eat enough food.
 - b. So you don't dilute stomach juices.
 - c. So your urine will not smell bad.
 - d. So you don't overwork your kidneys.
4. Why is dark-coloured urine a sign to drink more water?
 - a. It shows our body is healthy.
 - b. It means our kidneys are working too hard.
 - c. Less water makes the colour darker.
 - d. It is the same colour as our digestive juices.

3. Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

A robot is a special programmable machine that can move and carry out a complex series of actions automatically. It follows instructions that come from a computer installed inside it. The robot does not make mistakes. It doesn't get tired or complain.

Robots are all around us. Some robots can help make cars. Other robots can help explore volcanoes. Certain robots can help vacuum your house. Some robots can recognize words. They can be used to help answer the phone calls. Some robots look like humans but most robots do not. Most robots just look like machines.

Long ago, people imagined robots. Over 2,000 years ago, a famous poet imagined robots. The poet's name was Homer. His robots were made of gold. They cleaned and made things. But they were not real. They were imaginary. The first real robot was made in America in 1961 by the American inventor George Devol. It looked like a giant arm and was used in car making factories.

In the future, we will have even more robots. They will do things that we can't do or things that are dangerous for us to do. Robots will help us fight fires. They will be used in wars. They will help us fight sickness. They will help us explore planets in the space. I think robots will replace man in different fields.

Winter is cold in some places. Many plants do not grow during winter. Some plants die. Snow and ice may cover the ground. It can be hard for animals to find food during winter. Animals get through this time in many ways. Birds and butterflies can fly. Many of them do not stick around for the winter. They leave. They go to a place with nice weather. Then they come home in the spring. We call this migration. Migrating is a good way to avoid the cold.

Another good way to avoid the cold is to sleep through it. Many animals hide during the winter. They save their energy. They do not eat. They live off of their fat. They do this until food returns. We call this hibernation. Snakes, frogs, and bears hibernate. Some animals store food in their homes. They do not sleep all winter. They live on what they have saved in the summer and fall. This is what squirrels and raccoons do.

Other animals do not leave or hide. They must survive. Sometimes nature helps them out. Some animals grow thicker coats in the winter. Other animals change colour. The arctic fox is brown in the summer. His coat turns white in the winter for safety. Winter may be pretty. It is nice to see snow on the trees. But it is dangerous too.

3. Read the following passage, then answer the questions :

It seems that the desire for money is part of human nature, though this desire varies from one person to another, one social group to another. However, in every society, it is thought that the more money a person has, the more prestige he is likely to get. Money plays a different role in every stage of our life. To a child at a school age, it is a means of buying things he likes (sweets for example). His school - mates, who can't do this, look at him with admiration and respect. To the teenager, it means independence and helps him gain a marked social status. He learns that popularity and leadership can be obtained through money. The young man or woman also gains respect, admiration and prestige from money. If he/she has money, it will be easy to join a good university and start a respectable career. An adult realizes the value of money as the breadwinner of the family. Satisfaction of the family needs brings him happiness. On the other hand, it is also associated with fear, worry and anxiety. Finally, at the age of retirement, money is the main source of security to a person. Money certainly affects many of our feelings and opinions.

However, two important things must be put into consideration when it comes to earning money or spending it. The first is that money must be legally earned. It mustn't be stolen or taken by force or trickery. The second is that people should be moderate in spending money. They shouldn't be stingy or wasteful. In other words, money must benefit its holder not spoil him.

Choose the correct answer from a , b , c or d :

- The main topic of the passage is
a. prestige b. popularity c. money d. anxiety
- For teenagers, money helps them gain
a. wisdom b. dependence c. love d. status
- The word "stingy" means
a. wasteful b. helpful c. moderate d. miser
- The desire for money
a. is the same for all people b. varies among people
